

Dear SunGod,

I love you.

A couple of years ago I made the switch to SunGod sunglasses. I have no regrets, I love you.

I started with a pair of all black Renegades.

They've been everywhere with me.

In summer I like to fish, guess what? You're always there with me!

Of course, my wife got a bit jealous 😊 so I had to buy her some too!

She needed a “girlie” pair, so a white framed pair of Renegades with purple lenses was just the ticket, she fell in love with you too.

Helen likes to cycle on the road a bit, so I figured a pair Pacebreakers would be spot on for her when she is out on her bike. I think she loves you more, because she wears her Pacebreakers all the time.

Last year we travelled to England and France. This was Helen's first visit to England and France. It was an amazing adventure; and you were there with us.

We got to see inside Buckingham palace:

We went to Stonehenge:

And kissed on the bank of the river at Bath:

This year we spent heaps of time at the beach over Christmas. In New Zealand Christmas is in summer! Crazy right. You helped us celebrate Christmas:

In June I bought a new snowboard for winter. I bought a 2019 Burton Process. It's a cool board, but it has one major down fall, it's grey. It's such a boring looking board. So I figured I would graffiti it a little bit. Check this out:

Yesterday (Sunday October 14th) I was sitting in the snow at top of Ruapehu mountain, at the Whakapapa ski resort, and snapped this pic.

It was a great day on the snow!
I grabbed a quick selfie on the way home:

There you are again SunGod, with us again, helping us have an adventurous life ☺

We've built a great relationship!

Except for one thing (I won't post a picture of me sad, but you can imagine my sadness)

Here's a picture of me on the mountain:

And here's a picture of Helen and I sitting on the chairlift:

You're not there SunGod, I'm sad! ☹️

Facebook knows you want to be there with me, it reminds me all the time!!!

But alas, I am SunGodless SUNGODLESS!!

Sad Paul ☹️

I keep checking at your website, but I've just never been given good news.

I've posted on your facebook, and the response is always "probably September", "Maybe October".

I've filled in the form that says, "throw your email address in the box below", but I've not heard from you, do you not love me like I love you?

I've got some favourites saved for Helen and I

I'd love the low light lenses with white frames, and a white strap. Helen would love the pink SunGod logo.

But, all good things must come to an end. Next weekend is our last weekend in the New Zealand snow season. And you won't be there to help us make an adventurous life.

Doesn't this make you sad?
It makes me sad!

This is not a break up letter.
I still love you.

Paul and Helen Willard
New Zealand.
